

Roles & Responsibilities of Idaho Department of Fish and Game

- IDFG will facilitate getting ideas and advice from all Members, including both face-to-face visits (e.g., personal interviews or meetings) and remote means (e.g., telephone conversations and emails).
- IDFG will evaluate and consider all ideas and advice in terms of achieving the four desired outcomes above.
- IDFG will keep the Sounding Board informed of its decisions on using their ideas and advice.
- IDFG is responsible for its decisions, regardless of where the ideas originally came from.

I, Steve Alder, representing the organization
Idaho For Wildlife, hereby agree to the above terms as a Member of the Sounding Board for the 2012 Idaho Wildlife Summit.
